Registration Guidelines

Class Schedule and Registration Form

Please refer to the Fall Semester Registration Form and Class Schedule to see the composite listing of classes offered this semester and the schedule for each. Some changes in the class schedule may be necessary after registration is completed. We will make every effort to accommodate the preferences of every student. If you have concerns about the schedule or alternative choices please note them on the registration form so we will know how class deletions or other changes might affect you.

Registration Fees

Due to the success of our annual fund raising event, the Skandi Dag and VikingMan Triathlon, we are able to eliminate registration fees this year for students whose families supported the event, which we consider to mean 20 hours of service per semester per student, up to two students, or a total of 40 hours service for the year. All families are expected to support these events since they provide a substantial portion of total operating expenses.

Tuition Payment

Tuition computation is made on the Fall Semester Registration form. Tuition is due on September 11th and late after September 19th.

Additional Fees

Some classes may require a lab fee, the purchase of book(s), etc. Refer to the course information herein or the registration form for details of each class.

Family Benefits:

Teachers, their spouses, parents of full time students and AHA graduates are welcome to attend and participate in any classes without charge, but are expected to meet dress and behavior standards, and to participate in class. Parents of part-time students will be charged half the normal class tuition rate.

Student & Parent Agreement

New parents and students will have the opportunity to attend an orientation session where all the policies and procedures of the Academy are explained and questions may be answered. Parents are responsible for compliance with dress code, financial policies, grading policies, service hour requirements, and etc.

Immunization Records

State law requires the Academy to obtain immunization information on each student enrolling in classes at the Academy. Either a current immunization record or an immunization waiver form will meet the requirement. These forms are available with registration materials.

Course Title: “Civics: The Proper Role of Government and Current Politics”
Registration Number: SS310

Instructor: Mr. Fluckiger
Credits: 1 Core Credit—Social Studies
Tuition: $150
Also Available Online

Course Outline:

This course will begin with a study of The Law by Frederick Bastiat, continue with a study of The Proper Role of Government by E.T. Benson, and conclude with an application of the principles learned there to current political issues as presented by the opposing political parties during the current presidential election campaign. Grading for the course will be based upon quizzes on assigned readings, two essay assignments and one research and oral presentation project. If students have previously studied these books, the instructor will furnish selected readings on the role of government in America today.

Required Materials: The Proper Role of Government, provided by American Heritage Academy, and The Law, which may be ordered for $3.00 through the Academy or is available online for free. Also, students should bring a set of scriptures, their pocket U.S. Constitution and Declaration of Independence, and if possible a world atlas. We recommend the Hammond New World Atlas available from Barnes and Nobel.

The Law can be read for free or printed at <http://www.constitution.org/law/bastiat.htm>

Course Title: Senior Ancient History 4000 B.C. to 1000 B.C.

Registration Number: SS301

Instructor: Mr. Fluckiger

Credits: 2 Core Credits – Social Studies

Tuition: $250

Also Available Online

Course Outline:

This course will examine the major events and personalities of the first five American Heritage key history dates. Particular attention will be given to significant issues as a preparation for required graduation essays. A class schedule for each date will be distributed at the beginning of each semester. The dates to be covered this semester are:

4000 B.C.	The Creation (Adam)
2344 B.C.	The Flood (Noah)
2000 B.C.	God Establishes His Covenant (Abraham)
1500 B.C.	Migration of Israel (Moses)
1000 B.C.	Golden Age of Israel (King David)

Grading will be based upon daily quizzes on the previous class period lecture and discussion (50%) and a final exam (50%) that is a selection of daily quiz questions from the semester.

Required Materials: Students should have a 3-ring binder to keep daily notes and quizzes and all handouts. Additionally, bring a set of scriptures, and a world atlas. Recommended atlas is the Hammond New World Atlas.

Course Title: Private Writing Lessons

Registration Number: LA307

Instructor: Alan Fluckiger

Credits: 1 Core Credit – Language Arts

Schedule: Students will be asked to make individual arrangements for a regular appointment with Mr. Fluckiger. Priority will be given to current year graduates in scheduling.

Tuition: $150

Also Available Online

Course Outline:

The emphasis and objective of this class is to prepare students to write quality graduation essays. Each student's writing ability will be assessed and targeted skills assignments will be given each week to develop weak areas. Graduation essays will be the main effort of the class.

Each student will meet individually once each week with the instructor for a private writing lesson and assessment. Assignments may be submitted by email or in person per arrangement with Bro. Fluckiger.

Two semesters of this class are required for students who are graduating this year unless they have already completed their 20 graduation essays, in which case one semester is required with advisor approval.

Course Title: Sr. Literature and Speech

Registration Number: LA301

Instructor: Mr. Kory Lloyd

Credits: 2 Core Credits – Language Arts

Tuition: $250

Additional Book Fee: $25.00

Also Available Online

Course Outline:

This course will meet only once per week in a traditional classroom. A majority of class time will be spent in an online classroom where students will respond to selected topics from assigned readings, participate in weekly discussion forums, and be tested on course material. Each student will be required to write two personal essays and one final research essay based upon our topic. This class will pursue a path of discovery about the nature of heroes as we study literature of both the past and present. Mythological and actual heroes will be analyzed involving literature which includes ancient scripture, Greek mythology, and various modern-day works.

Grading will be based upon the following:

Five online discussion postings

Ten online discussion responses

Six reading/discussion comprehension tests

Two personal essays

One final research essay
